Community of Interfaith Youth A DMARC program

Who: Youth ages 14-18 who are interested in learning about other faith beliefs.

What: In the CltY (Community of Interfaith Youth) we engage youth of different religious backgrounds to use their religious difference as an opportunity to be compassionate and serve one another and the greater community in which they live.

Where: Location varies, check with Colin at Colin.e.Faux@gmail.com

When: CltY meets once per month, usually the 2nd Thursday.

Why: To build relationships among youth of different religions backgrounds and to serve.

CltY is made possible by the Larry & Kay Myers Interfaith and Intercultural Ambassador Initiative.

The Legacy of Larry Myers - Larry Myers was a quiet man who was passionate about serving the community. He served as president of DMARC and the DMARC Foundation, and he played a key role in bringing the Jewish community into the DMARC family. Additionally, his leadership moved DMARC to play key role in establishing Hospice of Central Iowa. Larry fervently believed in DMARC's service initiatives.
